

THE ONE-PAGE CONTRACT.

The single sheet that turns a WhatsApp gig into a professional booking.

HOW TO USE THIS

- 01 Fill in the details on page 02 — fees, dates, cancellation terms.
- 02 Both parties sign at the bottom of that page.
- 03 Save the signed copy. That's your contract.
- 04 Send it after fee is agreed, not before — the soft-launch script is on page 03.

HOW TO SEND IT.

The framing matters more than the document. Send this the moment the fee is agreed:

THE SOFT-LAUNCH SCRIPT

"Cool, let's lock it in. I'll send my standard booking sheet — just fee, dates, cancellation, and force majeure. Takes 30 seconds to sign, protects both sides."

Frame it as courtesy, not distrust. That framing decides whether they say "great" — or "who does this guy think he is."

IF THEY PUSH BACK

- "We don't usually do contracts" — that's the exact reason to start.
- "It's just a small night" — small nights cancel too. That's what the deposit is for.
- "Do you not trust me?" — reframe: this protects them just as much as it protects you.
- If they still refuse — that is itself the answer. Reconsider the booking.

THE RHYTHM

- 01 Fee agreed on WhatsApp → send the contract within 24 hours.
- 02 Both parties sign → 50% deposit is triggered.
- 03 Deposit received → date is locked in your calendar.
- 04 After the gig → raise invoice against the same PAN, apply 1% TDS.
- 05 Every quarter → ask for Form 16A. Reconcile Form 26AS annually.

A CONTRACT SAYS YOU TAKE YOUR WORK SERIOUSLY.

The DJs who send contracts get treated like professionals. The ones who don't get treated however the promoter feels that week.
